Hope Spotlight

Meet Juma

Born in Darfur, Juma and his family escaped the war in the dark of night and eventually ended up in a refugee camp in Kenya, where they would spend the next 10 years. Eventually his family made their way to Colorado, where he continued his education and eventually became a Community Navigator for Hope Communities. We are so grateful to work with Juma, and are thrilled to share that he will be featured in a video to be aired at our Hope for the Future event.

If you want to hear more about Juma and his life leading up to arriving in Colorado, join us on September 12 at Upper Larimer. There, we'll feature Juma along with several of Hope Communities' clients and each of their unique journeys to get where they are today.
